What's going on this week?

Internet and media companies should do more to tackle the spread of misinformation as falsehoods have increased during the coronavirus pandemic, fact-checking organisation Full Fact said in a report released early May. "Bad information ruins lives," Chief Executive Will Moy said. "Here in the UK, we have seen misinformation take hold in the form of fake cures, spurious claims, conspiracy theories and financial scams."

Things to talk about at home...

- 🍏 Can you make a list of all the different places you can hear about the news?
- 🍏 Talk about the different ways you can check if the news is likely to be true and the different places to find news that has been checked.
- 🍏 Do you like hearing about what's in the news?
